

Sexual Victims are Less Likely to be Accepted by Their Boyfriends?-A Comparative Between Sexually Invaded Women And Women with Voluntary Sexual Behavior

Presenter Name:ZhaoYuan Zhang

Affiliation:School of Management, Chengdu University of Information
Engineering

Paper ID:SS422

成都信息工程大学
Chengdu University of Information Technology

INTRODUCTION

In the process of social development, the sexual liberation from the West has influenced the Chinese concept of chastity to a certain extent. But Chinese ideas of chastity still oppressed women in all aspects of social life. Currently, an increasing desire for sex occurs after basic human needs are met, so cases of sexual assault occur frequently. To this end, a questionnaire and interview were conducted assuming that respondent's girlfriend had a sexual assault or sexual relationship with her predecessor. The reasons why it is more difficult for men to accept girlfriends undergoing sexual assault were analyzed, and recommendations to improve the unfair situation faced by victims of sexual assault were made.

MAIN PROCESS

For the blog about sexual assault on Sina Weibo, this article uses Python crawler technology to mine data on the comments below the more prominent blog. And the statistics of the keyword frequency of each blog are counted. These words frequency combines the frequency of occurrence of the words and the number of times they are praised. Finally, the data were analysed and visualized.

RESULTS AND ANALYSIS

This paper analyzes the comments of Sina Weibo (China social media platform), and investigates the acceptability of marriage and love relationships among women with premarital sexual behaviors such as "non-sexual women" and victims of sexual assault. SPSS software was used to conclude that "sexually assaulted girlfriend" was more unacceptable than "girlfriend with sexual assault". The analysis concluded that since most victims of sexual assault will suffer from PTSD, it is difficult for each partner to completely abandon negative ideas when they have sex, making it harder for some men to accept victims of sexual assault when faced with two hypotheses.

CONCLUSION

Based on the investigation and analysis, we can see the current unfair social attitudes towards sexual assault victims, but also find that the impact of the current "virgin obsession" is gradually weakening. We have reason to believe that by establishing a systematic sex education system, establishing a sound sexual morality and guiding a healthy public opinion. The bias and suspicion faced by victims of sexual assault will gradually decrease in the future. As one of the important participants in the social economy, women are entitled to the same rights as men, and they should and must include the right to freedom of sexual choice.